Title of Lesson: Writing in Role - Writing From a Character's Point of View

Goals/Objectives: To learn that different characters have different points of view and different perspectives.

Materials Needed:

Text, paper, pencil

Task Instructions:

Pretend you are one of the characters in the book you are reading. Write from one of the character's point of view.

Write in role - Write in the first person.

Write about experiences the character is having, and the feelings that go along with these experiences. Infer why you think this is. Make some predictions as to what could happen next to this character.

Adaptations:

Choose a book at home, or choose something online. Here are some suggestions:
