

Literacy Gr2 – Lesson 3 – Reading, Drawing and Writing are Connected

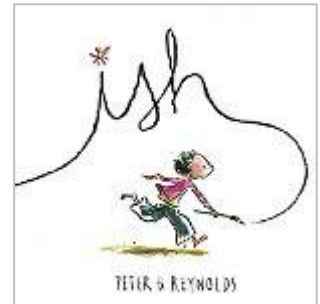

Curriculum: Literacy (Receptive and Expressive)

Learning Goals:

Ideas and story can come from anywhere. Reading can use words or even pictures. This story will help you see reading, drawing and writing from a different perspective.

- Notebook
- crayons

Activity:

Read the book, Ish. You might wish to read along with the words on the page. Just turn the sound off.

Reading is hard work especially when you are figuring out new words. What did you learn about Ramon as he drew his pictures? How did his sister Marisol help him?

Create an “ish” notebook. Start with drawing some pictures, then add words to describe your pictures. At the bottom of the page, write sentences to expand your ideas.

Remember to use capitals and periods. This helps others to read and understand.
