

COLLECTING WORDS & BUILDING OUR READING STAMINA

Readers use strategies to make sense of what they read, hear, and view.

We grow as readers when we read books that interest us and talk about what we read.

READ, THINK, RESPOND

Let's continue to work on building our "reading stamina" and increase the amount of time we spend reading each day.

- CHOOSE the books you'd like to read. You may need a few if they are shorter books. Or you may want to read a couple of chapters from two different books...it's up to you!
- WATCH video 6 "Read for 20 minutes" and remember all the reading behaviours that will help you build your stamina.
- Readers check for understanding as they read so remember to re read if you don't understand something.
- Readers often have conversations in their head with the author, asking questions as they read. What questions come up for you as you're reading?
- Sometimes we read like writers and stop at words that we find interesting and that we might want to use in our writing. Readers also collect interesting words as they read and record them in their writer's notebook.

READ EVERYDAY!

Remember to find a quiet spot and choose a book (or more) to read EVERYDAY from the online Resource link, from the public library or borrow from family and friends.

Continue to build your daily reading time and share what you're reading with others. They might have a recommendation for you, too!

EVERY DAY
is a reading day!
